LETTER FROM GOVERNOR

This annual report documents some of the work done by the Governor's Office on Disability to make life better for our fellow Alabamians with disabilities. Alabama has almost 945,000 citizens with disabilities. Our administration is committed to increasing opportunities for those with disabilities and to tearing down any remaining barriers to equality that they may face. That's why we have refocused and improved GOOD by executive order. We've clarified its mission and enhanced its ability to coordinate with other state agencies.

I rely on GOOD to provide me with information on disability resources and unmet needs of Alabamians with disabilities. GOOD is an excellent resource for such information. If you need assistance with disability-related issues, please do not hesitate to contact GOOD.

Sincerely,

Bob Riley
Governor

LETTER FROM EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

I would like to thank the Governor and the Alabama Legislature for their continuing support of GOOD. FY 2008 and FY 2009 have been two years of positive growth and change for the office. Governor Riley signed Executive Order 43 which more clearly sets out the duties of the office. Nine local advisory committees have been created around the state to solicit grassroots input about unmet needs of people with disabilities and to increase the visibility of the office. Likewise, a State Advisory Committee was formed to provide overall input to GOOD from different persons with disabilities and disability organizations. GOOD in partnership with its advisory groups developed a new mission statement and strategic plan. The GOOD website has been updated to increase its usefulness for Alabama's citizens. Meetings have been held with other state agencies to foster collaboration and maximizing of state resources for persons with disabilities. A special thanks is given to the Alabama Department of Rehabilitation Services for its close partnership with GOOD.

Information about disability issues and training has been delivered throughout the state. Awareness is a powerful tool which leads to greater access for individuals with disabilities. GOOD continues its role of dispensing accurate information. Join the GOOD list by accessing the appropriate icon on GOOD's web site at www.good.alabama.gov.

In 2009, GOOD held its Inaugural Disability Summit. Its purpose was to convene major state agencies and non-profit organizations serving people with disabilities to identify resources and top issues. GOOD will use information from the Summit to facilitate strategies to help persons with disabilities.

We look forward to an even more productive year in FY 2010.

Sincerely,

Graham L. Sisson, Jr.

GOOD Overview

The Governor's Office on Disability was created by Executive Order in 1999. It was formed to serve as a statewide clearinghouse for information on disability in Alabama. Its other major function is to act as a liaison to the Governor's Office on disability issues.

The Governor's Office on Disability's mission statement was revised in 2008 as follows:

Facilitate the inclusion of Alabamians with disabilities in education, employment, housing, transportation, health care, and leisure.

Governor Riley's Executive Order 43 in 2008 significantly clarified and refined the duties of Governor's Office on Disability. Resources are scarce in Alabama. The Governor's Office on Disability seeks to maximize disability resources by identifying existing ones and fostering collaboration among public and private entities that serve people with disabilities.

The Governor's Office on Disability actively seeks to engage communication between individuals with disabilities and their families and entities that provide services to them. GOOD's web site, www.good.alabama.gov, is one tool that is being expanded to facilitate open dialogue and access on disability resources and issues. Additionally, GOOD held its first Disability Summit to bring together leaders of public agencies and non-profit organizations that serve individuals with disabilities. Common issues and resources were identified.

To foster communication even more, GOOD developed a listserv. Anyone interested in issues affecting people with disabilities can join the GOOD list by accessing the website at www.good.alabama.gov, clicking the "Join the GOOD List" icon and entering in personal contact and e-mail information. Periodically, cutting edge information on disability will be shared with list members.
